

Are You Ready for the Moral Trap?

Many young adults raised in church and in a Christian home would not be easily persuaded with a direct attack on their faith. (e.g., “There is no God. The Bible cannot be trusted. Truth just depends on your situation in life. There are no absolutes.”)

So our enemy has devised a “moral trap” that leads many young people away from their moral roots.

Once a young person decides that “these things (which God says are wrong) can't be so bad as all that,” and cross a line of participation in sinful activities, then their minds become susceptible to other lies about right and wrong, truth and error.
